Class 5 History Museum

Thank you to the grown-ups who came to look at our museum. It was lovely for the class to learn about the different roles of the staff in a museum and be proud of the work they had done at home and in school.

Proposed Change to the School Day – Thank You So Far

Last week I sent a letter out to everyone as part of our consultation regarding altering the hours our school is 'officially' open. I have only had a small number of questions back, which I assume means most people understand and accept the proposals.

Whilst I did ask for any responses to be with me by today, please do send any queries you may have in to the school office. I have read the ones received so far and I will respond to them in the early weeks of next half term.

Planting up our Containers

Mrs Soffe was back again this week to kindly help small groups of children to plant the various vegetables in the raised beds. Hopefully they will survive the half term break and establish themselves over the coming weeks.

Toys in School

We have noticed the odd toy appearing at school. Please can I remind everyone that toys should not be brought to school unless there is a reason the class teacher is aware of. Thank you for your help with this matter.

Goodbye and Good Luck Mr Barnes

Today we say goodbye to Mr Barnes, who leaves us after deciding to take a change in career. Mr Barnes is a popular member of our team, teaching subjects across several classes. He has been a great colleague to work with and a caring, thoughtful teacher for the children to have been taught by. I am sure you will join us by wishing him every success as he moves on. You know where we are Mr Barnes!

Next half term we are covering the sessions Mr Barnes taught mainly through utilising staff currently at school. Mr Allen and myself will be covering the teaching in Y5, Mrs Burgoyne in Y3 and Miss Honour in Y6. We have arranged for a supply teacher already known to the school and Class 6 to fill the one remaining session.

Slow the Flow Workshop in Class 3

This week Class 3 had a day thinking about climate change and how flooding in particular is causing increasing problems in our area. They took part in several activities to highlight the problem as well as to look at potential solutions through things like planting trees. An informative and interesting day!

'We went onto the school field and used sticks and leaves to make dams that would slow the flow of flood water. The best thing was making posters in groups about getting help in flooded areas. We all enjoyed the day.' By Pippa and Qifu – Class 3

Clubs

Clubs will carry on next half term unless you hear from school. They will not run in the final week of the term. If any clubs require an extra payment we will inform the families concerned.

Enjoy Spring Bank

Well, that's another busy and productive half term under our belts. It looks as though the fine weather is set to continue for the next few days at least. I hope that you all find time to enjoy the great outdoors together and have a brilliant time. I look forward to seeing everyone on Monday 5th June. Enjoy!
